As a Reconciling

of First United Methodist Church have pledged to welcome and support all who want to worship with us,
regardless of race,
gender, class or sexual orientation.

Lent is a season of repentance and a time to prepare for the celebration of Easter. It is a time of self-reflection and renewal. Join us for First Church's annual Lenten Suppers and programs.

This year's theme is: Ministries of Compassion and Service. Come each week for a special meal, beginning at 5:30 PM, and then enjoy a variety of programs, as each week we explore the meaning of compassion and service in our time. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 6:30 PM. Program 6:30 to 7:30 PM. Child care will be provided.

SOUP'S ON

At 5:30 pm each Wednesday night during the Lenten Series, come to Collins Hall for a Soup Supper Buffet. Michael Copeland will prepare a delicious meal for us to share. The fellowship around tables is always "warming" too! There is a suggested $5.00 donation for the meal.

memo

Rev. Dr. Arvin Luchs

A “benediction” according to Philip Pfatteicher author of the *Dictionary of Liturgical Terms is, simply, “Imparting God’s blessing upon God’s people at the close of a service.” But a good benediction is more than that—much more. In skillful hands, those closing moments can be a sermon in miniature—a tiny gemstone of truth that glistens and beams with meaning.

The Apostle Paul knew that. His letters are sprinkled with moments of benedictions—nuggets of blessing and challenge that give his writings power and meaning. Our own Dr. Greathouse, who normally offers our Sunday benedictions, has a wonderful way of offering a few, carefully chosen words that pull together the themes of the day and send us forth with new insight and vision. Clearly last Sunday’s guest preacher, the Rev. Dr. Bob Edgar, is a master of the craft of the benediction.

As I write, I am basking in the afterglow of his visit. Dr. Edgar is, as many of you discovered, a remarkable Christian leader. An ordained United Methodist minister, six-term congressman from Pennsylvania, one-time president of the School of Theology at Claremont, he is now the General Secretary of the National Council of Churches in Christ. The NCCC has the formidable task of gathering nearly three dozen faith groups around a common table to work together in Christ’s name.

During his whirlwind stop in Portland, Edgar addressed ecumenical church leaders, spoke to the Portland City Club, inspired a day-long conference of Methodist leaders at the MFSA Spring Convocation, and preached at our Sunday service. (Edgar’s City Club talk will be broadcast on public radio, community-access television and is available, free, as an MP3 download at <http://pdxcityclub.org/forums-events/friday-forums.php#ListenOnline>)

He brought a message to those he calls “middle church”—the vast majority of good hearted Christians who are diligently and quietly worshipping in local churches across our land, conscientiously nurturing their children in the faith, active in works of charity and striving to lead decent, responsible and faithful lives. In other words, people like you and me.

Edgar is convinced that we are embarrassed by the bellicose ranting of the radical right—people like Pat Robertson and Jerry Falwell, —and are seeking a positive and inspiring vision of faith that is relevant, reasonable, balanced and careful. He sees an emerging consensus of thoughtful evangelicals, mainline and orthodox Christians who are compelled by their faith in Christ to join hands in efforts to fight poverty and hunger, combat global warming, work for peace, and advocate for the rights of all people.

He has written a book (to be published in September by Simon and Shuster) which argues that there is such great power nascent in “middle church” that if it awakened to the reality of our world, and responded to God’s call to mission, it could literally transform society for Christ.

Sunday’s benediction was a call to arms for those of us in middle church. It originated, Edgar said, in the Order of St. Francis.

May God bless you with DISCOMFORT ...
At easy answers, half-truths, and superficial relationships,
So that you may live deep within your heart.

May God bless you with ANGER ...
At injustice, oppression, and exploitation of people,
So that you may work for justice, freedom, and peace.

May God bless you with TEARS ...
To shed for those who suffer from pain, rejection, starvation and war.
So that you may reach out your hand to comfort them
And to turn their pain into JOY.

And may God bless you with enough FOOLISHNESS...
To believe that you can make a difference in this world,
So that you can DO what others claim cannot be done. Amen

Rev. Dr. Bob Edgar

See you in (middle) Church! Arvin

FAMILY OF FRIENDS: FAMILIES MENTORING CHILDREN

When: Sunday, April 23

Noon to 1:30 PM

Where: Fireside Room

A large number of children in the United States are living in situations that destroy their chances of growing into healthy, productive human beings. "Mentoring in America," research sponsored by the AOL Time Warner Foundation, found that there are 17.6 million young people who need or want mentors. Families like yours can make a difference in the life of a child who is growing up in poverty and community violence. Family of Friends is a program that matches volunteer families with six-to-nine-year-old children in need. The families serve as "mentors," or "guides" encouraging the child's positive growth and development. This forum will introduce you to this wonderful, life changing program. Kersti Pettit-Kekel, First Church Coordinator for Family of Friends, and Kris Linden, Executive Director of the program, will be on hand to discuss this important program and answer your questions. The definition of family is all-inclusive. Come and learn more!

rake

Our mild January and early February meant that our late-winter pruning had to be done earlier than usual due to plants and trees budding out earlier. Thus, we had to rush through pruning to prevent damage to plants. The two heavily pruned Maple trees in the sidewalk on the southside of our sanctuary are not healthy and are scheduled to be replaced later this year. Their replacements will be more desirable for those spots. Plans are to widen the squares cut into concrete and use brick for filling in around the base. This new look should make that spot in our landscape more attractive.

Other landscape improvements are scheduled for this year. We look forward to replacing some plants and finishing the landscaping behind the gym, as weather and time permit. Our attendance is holding up well through the winter months. We are glad to welcome another staff member, Annie Heart, to our roster. She joined the Shovel and Rake Gang this February. You are invited to join this happy crew each Thursday morning from 8:00 to 11:00 AM.

ON GOAL SETTING ...

A young man aspired to take up the sport of archery. One day he was driving past a farm and he noticed targets painted on several of the barns. To his amazement all of the targets had arrows directly in their bulls-eyes. He stopped at the farm and sought out the amazingly accurate archer.

“How did you manage to hit the bulls-eye of every single target?” asked the young man eagerly.

The farmer smiled and said, “I pull back on the bow with all my strength and let the arrow fly! Wherever the arrow lands ... that’s where I paint my target!”
