Rev. Dr. Arvin R. Luchs

A collegial but determined spirit filled the fieldhouse at Willamette University as more than 600 United Methodists from around Oregon and southern Idaho gathered to hear Bishop Robert Hoshibata call us to “Boldly Make Disciples” and challenge us to “Transform the World.” First Church was well represented.

Among the members, in addition to our clergy and three elected members, we boasted a youth member, General Agency director, Conference staff and a number of retired clergy.

Over the meeting's five days members gathered in small groups to reflect on our spiritual ties, consider proposed action, and to “Reach out in Love” by spending an afternoon in community service projects. We met in large groups to worship, set annual goals and budgets, adopt new action and proclaim our witness on justice and faith issues.

When the final gavel fell on Saturday afternoon we had:

Affirmed a new “Strategic Direction” for our region.

Endorsed dozens of matters related to social action and witness - five of them sponsored by this congregation's Church & Society Committee for Social Justice (all five of those were approved). Others measures ranged from gun safety, protection of the sojourner and the immigrant, peace in the Holy Land, qualifications for clergy, the membership rights of gay and lesbian persons in the United Methodist Church, and universal healthcare.

Agreed to explore a capital funds campaign to improve the seven campsites we own and help reconstruct an Assembly site damaged by Hurricane Katrina.

Reaffirmed our determination to end hunger and poverty by receiving a “Change Hunger Fast Offering” totaling over $25,000 from congregations and rallying on the steps of the Oregon Capitol, where we called upon Oregon leaders to fully address the needs of the hungry and those lacking basic healthcare. (A representative of the governor's office, and two senators - both United Methodists - responded to the crowd.)

Approved annual “Shared Ministry” budget of $7.1 million for world service, benevolences, campus and camping ministries, conference programs and ministerial support of pensions and healthcare, and much more.

Elected four lay and four clergy delegates to the 2008 General and Jurisdictional Conferences. Gave thanks for the faithful service of seven retiring clergy and greeted four new clergy (three Elders and a Deacon.) We welcomed the Bishop's assignment of clergy to our parishes. (Lowell and I are delighted to be returning!)

Celebrated a number of special awards including a “Peace Covenant Recognition” for our congregation and a “Bishop’s Award” to our own Maribeth Collins.

As is our tradition, at every Conference, we rise to sing Charles Wesley’s beloved hymn:

"And are we yet alive, and see each others' face?
Glory and thanks to Jesus give, for his almighty grace!"

And are we yet alive? I'm happy to report that the answer to that question is “yes.” Thanks be to God!

See you in Church!

Arvin (with appreciation to Paul Nickell who contributed substantially to this column)

Congratulations to Maribeth Collins who received the Bishop’s Award at the Oregon-Idaho Annual Conference in Salem. The award recognizes lay persons for their dedication and service through the United Methodist Church. Accompanying her at the presentation were her son, Truman and niece, Lee Diane Collins Vest.

being Christ in the world

feeding the hungry

CHANGING THE FACE OF HUNGER

Thanks to everyone who contributed to Bishop Hoshibata's "loose change" hunger relief challenge. Our church contributed nearly $400 to this effort. Over $24,000 was collected from churches throughout the annual conference. These funds will go to support the work of the Oregon Food Bank. In addition, hunger relief was a theme throughout this year's Oregon-Idaho Annual Conference as we gathered at the steps of the capitol to encourage legislators to address hunger elimination, one of the worship service offerings went to support the work of the Oregon and Idaho Hunger Relief Task Forces, and many members of Annual Conference participated in volunteer teams one afternoon that worked in community gardens, food pantries, and other programs in the Salem area. Thanks for being a part of our annual conference's effort to make a difference in the world!

THE FARMER'S TABLE

The Farmer's Table is at the Courtyard near Collins Hall after Sunday worship service. On alternate Sundays, Hmong refugee farmer, Yua Lo, will bring fresh flowers and Oregon grown strawberries! Our Hmong refugee farmer, Yua Lo, walked out of Laos as a young child with her family in 1975 when the American CIA left the region. She began school in the US never having even held a pencil much less a book. But she persevered and now she and her husband have two sons, the eldest at OSU with hopes of becoming a family practice physician. Yua loves farming, fulfilling her family's long tradition. She lights up with a smile recalling the sacred experience of planting a seed, tending the soil, and watching a plant grow into a lovely flower. To learn more about Hmong refugees like Yua, go to www.HmongNet.Org.

Beginning Sunday, July 8, Meskhetian Turkish refugee farmers will be bringing a wide array of vegetables, all organically grown!

FIRST SUNDAY IS FISH SUNDAY

There is no Summer Vacation for hunger! Canned and packaged foods are needed by FISH Emergency Services, a Portland volunteer organization providing emergency food to our neighbors in need. On Sunday, August 5th, the food barrels will be in the narthex and our challenge is to fill them to over-flowing. FISH gladly accepts financial gifts and volunteers as well. How long has FISH been helping others? The answer is on their website: "FISH began in Portland in 1967, when a small group of people, meeting under the auspices of the Portland Greater Council of Churches (now known as Ecumenical Ministries of Oregon), began offering emergency food and transportation to those in need. The first modern FISH ministry began in 1961. A group of untrained lay people at St. Andrew's Church in Oxford, England, decided to put the 'love thy neighbor' ethic into practice. And made themselves available to anyone in crisis."

OUR PLEDGED GIVING

Anticipated: $373,700.69
Received: 343,209.49

Please remember to keep your pledges current during the summer months!

Thank you,
The Finance Committee

ARE YOU A CARE GIVER?

At a recent meeting of our Stephen Ministers we learned about a number of resources that are available to persons who provide ongoing care for a family member or friend. We feel it would enhance our ability to provide caring ministry if we knew who, in our congregation, are providing regular, ongoing care for a loved one or friend. A caregiver is one who provides daily or frequent care for an aging, ill or disabled person. If you, or someone you know, provides such care please provide that information to Tom Foster, Minister of Pastoral Care: 503/228-3195 ext. 233 or email him at tfoster@fumcpdx.org.

organ concert

trio con brio

The American Guild of Organist's Regional Convention is in Portland this week. The opening concert features the unique musical ensemble, Trio Con Brio -Jonas Nordwall, Donna Parker and Martin Ellis. Donna has been our associate organist for several years and Martin is the organist for North Avenue United Methodist Church in Indianapolis. This trio has performed throughout the US for many years. Their concert repertoire offers everything from Bach to John Williams. This is a novel musical experience for all ages.

The concert is at First Unitarian Church on Sunday, July 1, 2007 at 7:30 PM. Tickets are $10 and available at the door.

thoughts for the journey

Rev. Lowell Greathouse, Minister of Discipleship

In his book Essential Spirituality, Roger Walsh writes about the love that radiated from Mother Teresa. He relates that she often said that "God loves the world through us" and that she regarded herself as "a pencil in the hand of God writing a love letter to the world." Walsh then relates a story about how whenever Mother Teresa "...boarded a plane she carried a sack containing some of the thousands of letters she regularly received from around the world. Seating herself, she reached into the sack, took out a letter, and began writing, treating each person with equal love and respect." At the end of her writing sprees, she'd hand the letters to one of her sisters, leaving her to mail them, while Mother Teresa raced off to her next task.

Walsh closes his story by quoting the following words that Mother Teresa delivered at the United Nations' fortieth-anniversary celebration:

"You and I must come forward and share the joy of loving.
But we cannot give what we don't have.
That's why we need to pray.
And prayer will give us a clean heart,
And a clean heart can see God in each other.
And if we see God in each other
We will be able to live in peace."

FIRST CHURCH MARCHES IN PRIDE PARADE

Once again, members of First Church marched in Portland's Pride Parade. Our banners, which read: "In God's Family All are Welcome," "First Church: A Reconciling Congregation," and "Focus on Every Family" drew a lot of attention and applause. Thanks to Vern and Betty Groves, who drove their Toyota Prius as a part of our group, we were ecologically-appropriate as well! Thanks to all who marched!
